

The Economic Research Forum (ERF) has undertaken a number of labor market panel surveys (LMPSs) across countries and time. This data set integrates (harmonizes) these surveys, including:

- The 1988 special round of the Labor Force Sample Survey (LFSS)
- The 1998, 2006, 2012, 2018, and 2023 rounds of the Egypt Labor Market Panel Survey (ELMPS)
- The 2010, 2016 and 2025 rounds of the Jordan Labor Market Panel Survey (JLMPS)
- The 2014 round of the Tunisia Labor Market Panel Survey (TLMPS)
- The 2022 round of the Sudan Labor Market Panel Survey (SLMPS)

The harmonization is designed to create comparable data that can facilitate cross-country and comparative research. All the surveys incorporate similar survey designs, with data on households and individuals within those households. Most incorporate a specific questionnaire on household enterprises and migrants. Not all variables from the original surveys are included in the integrated surveys, but work is ongoing to add further variables. Future survey rounds will also be integrated.
